

About the Project

TV production company are developing a new documentary-style travel TV series that celebrates the wonder of seeing the world through the eyes of Autistic adults. The series will follow a small group of travellers as they embark on adventures around Australia, exploring what excites them, what challenges them, and what makes their journeys unique.

This TV series is about showcasing authentic voices, real experiences, and the joy (and occasional chaos!) of travel, while gently highlighting the barriers that can exist along the way.

Travel is a universal dream, but not everyone experiences it the same way. This series puts Autistic travellers at the centre of the story, celebrating difference while keeping the tone fun, cheeky, and uplifting.

What We're Making Now

We're producing a 3–4-minute sizzle reel (short pilot teaser) to pitch the series to broadcasters. This will feature beautiful Australian travel footage combined with short interviews from Autistic participants about their thoughts and feelings on travel, their dreams, and their challenges.

Who We're Looking For

We're looking for 4 Autistic adults (18+) who are comfortable on camera and open to sharing their thoughts on travel.

- Based in Melbourne (for ease of filming). However, if based outside of Melbourne and keen to be a part of the sizzle, can arrange a recorded zoom interview instead.
- No prior TV experience needed.

PLEASE NOTE: This is not a casting guarantee for the final series — it's just to help us shape and pitch the project.

Filming Details

- Filming will take place on September 29, in Melbourne
- Short, friendly interview (1–2 hours max)
- You will receive the interview questions in advance
- Small, supportive crew with inclusive filmmaking practices
- Participants will be supported throughout to ensure comfort, safety, and consent
- We can offer each participant a $200 voucher for their time.

PLEASE NOTE: if you are not based in Melbourne, and still interested, please still apply. We will accommodate a virtual interview for the right applicant.

Application Process

Please follow this link to fill out a short questionnaire and/or submit a short video introducing yourself.

PLEASE NOTE: As there are only few available spots to film the sizzle, not everyone who fills out the application may be selected.

Once submitted, Aspect will work the production company to create a shortlist of applicants who will then be contacted. A phone call or zoom interview will take place prior to being selected to participate in the sizzle.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to reach out to Imogen Johnson (ijohnson@aspect.org.au).
